July issue of Women's Ink!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

At the May Literary Luncheon, Caroline Baum, shared her insights on reading for a living. With her enormous experience in interviewing some of the world's greatest writers, talking to them on and off stage, Carolyn was able to divulge certain interesting and candid conversations.

Sharon Rundle, in her hands-on workshop prior to the luncheon, brought attendees back to their senses. Sharon taught them techniques to activate their sensory perception and apply it to enhance their narrative.

Thank you members, Christine Sykes, Robyn Elliott, Julie Thorndyke, Cindy Broadbent and Colleen Keating for sharing the progress of your projects during May Newsbites. This is a special section, because members are always keen to hear what their colleagues are working on.

Congratulations to award winning author, Libby Hathorn on her latest picture book, Miss Franklin, based on the beginning of the brilliant career of Stella Maria Sarah Miles Franklin. Launched on May 21 at the State Library of NSW, State Librarian, Dr John Vallance welcomed invited guests including about a dozen enthusiastic primary school children from Talbingo, NSW, the birth place of Miles Franklin. Following an enjoyable and educational presentation from Libby, the book's illustrator, Phil Lesnie, stepped us through his illustrating process. A Miss Franklin in costume was seen parading in the vestibule.

If you haven't already booked into The Development Phase, SWW NSW evening workshop at The Women's Club with Laurel Cohn, on Tuesday 4 June, you may still be lucky enough to get a place.

Book now at <https://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/the-development-phase-with-laurel-cohn-tickets-55619562609>

Membership dues are payable on 1 July. You can of course pay anytime before then and still have membership for the full financial year 2019/20. Please help your Society by renewing promptly. Thank you to members who have already renewed.

At the 12 June workshop, Jackey Coyle will help you design your writing life. Following lunch, in her Keynote, Jackey will discuss the connections between different types of writing forms. Member Speaker, Sharon Rundle will take us behind the scenes of short stories.

That completes a very productive and busy first half of 2019. The rest of the year looks equally promising.

Keep Writing!

Gwen

Workshop

How to design your writing life

JACKEY COYLE

Jackey Coyle always aspired to be a polymath—her career has swung from aeronautics to art, music management to retail, jewellery to teaching/training, photography to publishing.

Finding the nuts and bolts of running her businesses dead boring, she designed more colourful systems to keep up with paperwork. Invited to design a course that focused on the business skills editors needed, she was meanwhile developing ways to sustain her writing practice by making the most of her time and energy.

This evolved into a course at Writers Victoria focused on designing your life around your writing.

Jackey will present a taster of her one-day course with exercises, discussions and takeaway resources. More information <http://www.dance-steps.net/news/>

Keynote Speaker

Writing Stories

JACKEY COYLE

Jackey Coyle writes stories—whether they're fiction, non fiction or poetry. She began writing about music in 1993 and moved into freelance travel editing for Lonely Planet, lifestyle magazine feature writing, ghostwriting, and fiction. Along the way she fell in love with editing other people's words and took time out to manage an Aboriginal art centre in the Kimberley. She is co-writing a book on cancer breakthroughs for a 2019 release.

Jackey will discuss the connections between these seemingly disparate forms, arguing that they all slot seamlessly into a portfolio career that takes in fashion design, aeronautical engineering, small business and academe. More about Jackey at <http://www.wordygurdy.com.au/>

Member Speaker

Anthologies and short stories

SHARON RUNDLE

A look behind the scenes at editing and producing collections of short stories. How are stories chosen, how are collections and anthologies of stories put together? What is involved in the production? How to find a publisher?

I'll also speak about the Australian Short Story Festival 2019 to be held at Swinburne University, Melbourne, Victoria on Friday 18–Sunday 20 October 2019.

An Evening Workshop at The Women's Club

Tuesday 4 June 2019

5:30 to 7:30 pm

Cost $40 - Book online at the-development-phase-with-laurel-cohn-tickets

The development phase

LAUREL COHN

You've finished your manuscript. What next? To give your work the greatest chance of success, whether you want to approach an agent or publisher, or you want to self publish, you need to develop the manuscript to the highest possible standard. There are two interrelated aspects to this. Firstly, it is immensely helpful to get feedback on your work from trusted beta readers and professional assessors or editors who can bring fresh eyes to the work and point out the strengths and weaknesses in the manuscript, guiding you through the next draft. Secondly, your ability to continue to develop your work to a publishable standard and to make the most of any feedback you receive relies in part on understanding that you are separate from your words, that your manuscript is a collection of sentences and ideas on the page that can be changed and cut and rearranged without causing physical calamity.

The development phase can be challenging and frustrating but also incredibly rewarding. If you are committed to becoming a writer, you can't avoid it. And it is, ultimately, a voyage of discovery.

This workshop will cover the following points:

- Your relationship with your work
- Giving your work to others to read
- What to expect from a manuscript assessment
- Dealing with feedback
- Approaching the next draft
- Recharging your batteries to go the distance

Announcing 2019 WRITERS' GRANT

The Society of Women Writers was founded in 1925 by a group of women writers and journalists with the goal of supporting women writers and promoting Australian literature. Now, as the Society of Women Writers NSW, we sponsor competitions and awards for members as well as competitions open to all women writers.

This inaugural grant will be held biennially, and is open to all paid up members for the financial year 2019-2020. It will support one winner to attend eight Workshops and three Literary Luncheon Meetings held by the Society of Women Writers NSW, at the State Library of NSW, or another venue.

Conditions of entry:

- You must have been a member for a full twelve months
- You must be a financial member for the period 2019/2020
- Only one submission per member
- This grant will be awarded by non-transferrable vouchers and must be used by March 2021
- The judge's decision is final

Applications must be submitted as follows:

1. Provide 300-500 words, outlining how the grant will enhance your writing.
2. Be typed, 1.5 spaced, on one side of A4 paper and must not exceed 500 words in length. The applicants name must not appear on the word document or it will be disqualified.
3. Via email OR post. Please submit two separate documents (1) your 300 - 500 word document without your name on it and (2) your application form.
4. By 5.00pm on Friday 5 July 2019.

About our Judge: I began writing about 25 years ago and have in that time produced 35 books. They include various topics, science fiction, fantasy, family situations and I then turned to more serious topics in Hello God and Let Me Whisper You My Story, which is about a child hiding during the Holocaust. I have had my work published in eight countries, the most recent in Germany and China. I have had various short listings, including four in the YABBA Awards and two Notable CBC books. My current aim is to write books that make children ask questions, about topics that can be used for discussion in school. Life is a mystery after all, and I want to explore it in my writing.

I look forward to judging this competition as workshops in my younger days were so valuable for me.

MOYA SIMONS

The winner will be awarded the grant at the Society of Women Writers Literary Luncheon, and AGM on Wednesday 14 August in the Dixson Room at the Mitchell Library.

The winner will be permitted a two minute acceptance speech.

Mentoring for writing and editing

Carolyn Beaumont

A mentor is a supporter of writers but never a dictator.

With quiet encouragement and gentle suggestion, a mentor can assist a writer to complete a poem, short story, novel, play, family history or biography.

A mentor can assist with mental blocks. There are solutions.

A mentor can discuss characters, dialogues, plots, settings and themes.

A mentor can be a sounding wall for a writer to bounce off ideas, sentence structures, chapter sequences, legal and ethical issues.

The corporate or self-publishing processes require manuscripts to be thoroughly edited and then proofread at printing stage.

A mentor can offer an objective view of structural balance and a fresh eye on line (or copy) editing of the text.

A mentor can advise on communications between authors and publishers/printers and discuss changes that may be advised.

A mentor can guide an author through the proofreading stage to final publication.
An effective mentor knows that the final decision must always be the author's decision.

Australia Council grant for 'We Children and the Narrow Road to the Deep North'

Children's Writer Libby Hathorn and artist Sadami Konchi through an Australian Council Literary grant will make an important trip to Japan in May to work on their picture story book, We Children and the Narrow Road to the Deep North.

'We will journey in the footsteps of master haiku poet Matsuo to tell the story of his meeting with some village children. The work will highlight the delights of creativity through haiku writing for Australian children, and children world-wide. And through contact with international schools there, we believe we will forge further links between Australia and Japan.'

Congratulations and best wishes for your trip to Japan.

The Society of Women Writers NSW thanks musician, MAGGIE SOMMERVILLE

for her gift of her CD *The Forest Prayed, in which she sings the words of (Dame) Mary Gilmore's poems. In launching her CD, Maggie said, inter alia, 'Mary Gilmore shares the ten-dollar note with Banjo Paterson. Paterson remains well known, but Mary Gilmore is almost forgotten. I believe this is partly because she is a woman. Gilmore was a gifted and prolific writer who did much to preserve the history of Australia's pioneers. If my album can play some small role in publicising and popularising the works of Dame Mary Gilmore, I will be well satisfied.'

Lyn Drummond has asked us to share this notice with our readers and to include her email address for responses:

I am a member, currently living in Hungary for medical reasons.

I recently attended an exhibition in Budapest called Blazing the Trail and am interested in the woman featured. The many women whose husbands took credit for their work in many fields. Including Einstein's first wife Mileva who is said to have co-authored his work on Relativity.

Can someone advise me of similar books about them or put me in touch with the relatives of the ones with connections to Australia?

Many thanks, Lyn Drummond
